Jim Haines was in the city yesterday.

Senator Noteware is rapidly convalescing.

The River and Harbor bill has passed the House.

Now all get together and pull for the District Fair.

Which shall it be, the Crawford primaries, or the old style?

Attention is called to the Equalization Notice in another column.

Everybody is now remarking: "Now bring on your county primaries."

Rochfort had another duel and "got there" three times on his opponent.

Saffell captured the first-class medal on Sunday, Parkinson the second, and Benton the third.

For Sale—A square grand piano. Cheap. Apply at M. A. Downey's furniture store, or at this office. s8

Steve Gage is in the city. He came down from Genoa, where for several days he has been the guest of Jim Haines.

Mrs. H. C. Davis, widow of the late Lieut.-Governor, received a dispatch yesterday morning, announcing the death of her father at Lamville, Ill.

Prof. Norris and Millar Brothers have reduced prices for this evening to general admission 50 cents, reserved seats 75 cents and children 25 cents.

The District Fair canvassing Committee will be round canvassing the city in a few days for subscriptions. Every taxpayer in the county ought to give something.

There is nothing like getting the facts of anything before the country. This is the way the agent of the Associated Press in Washington gives the country information. This is a dispatch that the Associated Press everywhere is supposed to publish:

Senator Jones of Nevada was presented with a handsome cane last night by his admirers in Utah. The presentation grew out of the fact that some time since Senator Jones was put off a street car because he found himself without a nickel to pay his fare. The story of the incident traveled, and his friends, in a spirit of humor and friendship, had a gold-headed cane made which contained in the handle a compartment sufficiently large to contain 100 nickels. A simple pressure of the thumb releases a nickel and another slips into place ready for use, like the cartridges in a magazine gun.

Millar Bros. and Prof. Norris' Consolidation.

The above highly popular entertainment opened at the Opera House last evening. The troupe of trained dogs, whose performances are truly marvelous, is the largest exhibition of the kind in the world, and the Millar Bros. with their magnificent diorama, bring before the eye of the spectator with realistic vividness all the interesting and historical sights of the earth; also a large number of remarkable mechanical effects. In fact it is a thoroughly enjoyable show being instructive, amusing and entertaining. The prices are: General admission 50 cents, reserved seats 75 cents, children 25 cents.

Racing Challenge.

The undersigned will back Miss Cony Coronado in a foot race of 100 yards or under against any lady in the State of Nevada, for $150 a side. Lady and money ready at any time.

COMSTOCK SCRAPPING.

The Slow Decay of Pugilism in Virginia City.

The old time admirers of the fistie art lament the slow but steady decay of pugilism on the Comstock. The Keogh-McCormack walk-around seemed to be the final kick of the business.

In the palmy days of the fighters the men did not dance and pose and skip about the ring as if they were practicing a new waltz step, but they got in and belted each other the instant they came to the scratch.

It was always a fight to a finish, too, and if the men didn't finish their fight in good shape, the spectators got in and hammered the principles, seconds and everything into an insensible state.

When old Bill Davis paralyzed Daley down on an island in the Carson river the last blow stretched him cold, and about one hundred six shooters were pulled and the air just crackled with the shots, as all hands went pell mell into the river and reached the shore as wet as water dogs.

A Judge of the Supreme Court was at that fight, and he always said it was a very good one. No one was killed, but Daley lay there two hours in the sun insensible, before it occurred to his backers to go there and get him home in a wagon.

Then there was the day when Dublin Pete fought sixty-three rounds with Askew, and every time he hit him the happy spectators were sprinkled by a shower of blood. Sometimes it was almost like a red fog; and behind Pete were Paddock and Hughes, who kept their man up to his work with two six shooters.

He finally got several teeth knocked out, and the crowd got in and hunted for them. He said he wouldn't fight another lick until he found his teeth.

Dan de Quille was there, and having an old false set of teeth in his pocket pried some out and gave them to Pete, so the fight could go on, and Pete, poor soul, didn't know the difference until he tried to fit them in his jaw after the swelling had gone down.

Then the fight in which Hallinan thrashed Billy Lynn of Eureka. All the millionaires of the Comstock had front seats, and the flower of her best society was there. They packed the Eureka man out of the ring blind as a bat, and over $10,000 changed hands.

What old Comstocker don't remember the time that Jimmy Travillyan knocked out his man with a single blow behind the ear and he fell in a heap, insensible. Time of fight, five seconds.

Fifteen years ago in Virginia City it was nothing to see ten or a dozen leading citizens arrested for scraps on the street, and they would simply pay their fines and go out and have another go.

Regular contributors to the city treasury were let off light by the Court.

But the times have changed, and now when a fight takes place it is weak and tame, and always ends in a fool. The only fighting of any account in last week's mill was done by McCormack.

The best fighting was done down in the audience, and about every ten minutes there was a knock-down and drag-out.

The police instead of dragging those people away should get them on the stage and give them a share in the gate receipts.

This is the only way to give a Virginia audience a chance to see fighting behind the footlights.

A Card.

I desire to state to the public that I am still in the bark business, and am prepared to furnish the same in small or large quantities, at any and all times.

STEWART ENDORSED

An Opinion of His Raid on Major Powell.

The West Shore has the following, which will be appreciated in this section:

Powell's picnic has been indefinitely postponed. It is really too bad for Congress to spoil so much fun just to please a few hundred thousand industrious home-seekers, but it has been done. For the past two years settlers within the arid region—which means two-fifths of the United States and contains millions of acres of the most fertile and productive land in the country—have been trespassing on the public domain, the land laws having been indefinitely suspended, to be restored, P. P.—Powell permitting—years hence. All Winter and Spring Major Powell marshaled his hosts and prepared his munitions of war for a campaign in the mountains and valleys of the West, and waited only for another appropriation by Congress to enable him to begin his invasion. He had gathered about him a motley array of "friends" of distinguished statesmen who would enjoy an outing at the government expense, and with this "pull" upon the law making power expected to secure his appropriation. He reckoned without the Senators and Representatives from the west, whose vigorous action in the premises has not only cut off the appropriation and repealed the law withdrawing the land from settlement, but bids fair to take the whole matter out of Powell's hands and transfer it to the department of Agriculture.

Put away your cute eyeglasses, You'll not need your tennis suits Nor umbrellas for the lasses, Nor your cunning hob-nailed boots. There's no picnic for you this year Common sense has struck a boom; Yes, we know it's rough on you dear, But the thing's gone up the flume.

Is He In?

When Mr. Newlands spoke in Virginia City and seconded Bartine's nomination, he said that one reason for his withdrawal from the congressional fight was the charge that might be made that he had selected a poor man to meet in the arena, instead of a rich one, meaning of course, Jones. He also in his speech said:

"Before the campaign closes there may be a contest within the party in which I may participate, but there will be none against it."

This is quoted everywhere as meaning that he may possibly be a Senatorial candidate. It would be hard to put any other construction on it.

Notice.

W. J. Loofbourrow has just opened up in the Ormsby Block a new line of Choice Confectionery, Fruits, Nuts, Tobaccos and cigars, and a full line of Stationery, Blank Books, School Supplies, Notions, etc., which will be sold very low for cash. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine our stock and prices, and a share of their patronage will be duly appreciated.

WHAT ON EARTH—Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trums put up by Cheap John houses, or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing.—W.
